ABSTRACT

“hitrekkers: The Ultimate Guide for Trekkers” is an attempt to provide the perfect recommendation of trekking destination when a person is searching destination for his trekking purpose. The main purpose to develop this web application is to make ease for trekkers in finding the better trekking routes for spending their times. This system takes various inputs concerned with destinations like distance, location, cost, accommodation and many more to produce a result with better recommendation. So, this kind of system helps visitors to get proper and quick information regarding trekking destination. Furthermore, it acts as a digital guide with concise content to follow.
